

Pamela Lamb RN, MA, PhD student

E-Mail: pamela.lamb@mail.mcgill.ca

Education

Ph.D. in Education Studies, McGill University, Montreal

Sep. 2016 to present

Thesis: Self-study in nursing education: Re-conceptualizing advocacy for Indigenous women's health equity
Supervisor: Dr. Claudia Mitchell

Honors and Awards:

- Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) (Value: $105,000.00 CAD), 2017-2020
Joseph-Armand Bombardier Canada Graduate Scholarship
- Fonds de recherche du Québec Société et culture (FRQSC) (Value: $60,000.00 CAD), 2017-2020
Bourse de doctorat (Declined)
- Graduate Excellence Award (Value: $25,000), McGill University, 2016-2017

Research Assistantship:

- Integrated Studies in Education, McGill University April 2018 to present
Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation funded study (Value: $225,000): "Circles within circles: Transnational perspectives on youth-led participatory approaches to combating sexual violence." Principal investigator: Claudia Mitchell (2017 Trudeau Fellow, F.R.S.C., James McGill Professor, Integrated Studies in Education, McGill University, and Director, Institute for Human Development and Well-being, McGill University). My professional and scholarly tasks include the following: conducting research, writing scholarly articles and presentations for peer-reviewed journals and conferences, corresponding with research partners, and event coordination.
- Ingram School of Nursing, McGill University Jan 2018 to present
Assisting Prof. Antonia Arnaert and Prof. Norma Ponzoni with following research projects: "Experiences of healthcare professionals using a computerized information system in senior residences" (project funded by Le Groupe Maurice); "Strengthening the relationship between primary care nurses and community health workers using technology-enabled home visits for preventative screening and monitoring of pregnant women living in the rural eastern region of Burkina Faso" (project funded by Grand Challenges Canada); "The development of a collaborative telehealth model for improving the provision of healthcare and experiences of patients undergoing bariatric surgery" (project funded by MEDTEC, Fonds de soutien à l'innovation en santé et en services sociaux); "Exploring the experiences of emergency triage nurses during police personnel's handover of mentally ill patients" (project funded by Réseau Québécois sur le suicide, les troubles de l'humeur et les troubles associés). My professional and scholarly tasks include the following: conducting research, writing literature reviews, writing scholarly articles and presentations for peer-reviewed journals and conferences, corresponding with research partners, writing research protocols and ethics applications, course preparation, and project coordination.
- Integrated Studies in Education, McGill University May 2016 to present
IPaSS funded study (Partnership Grant through SSHRC and IDRC; Value: $2.4 million): "Networks for Change and Well-being: Girl-led 'from the ground up' policy-making: Addressing sexual violence." Principal investigator: Claudia Mitchell (F.R.S.C., James McGill Professor, Integrated Studies in Education, McGill University, and Director, Institute for Human Development and Well-being, McGill University). My professional and scholarly tasks include the following: conducting research, writing literature reviews, contributing to ethics applications; conducting interviews, writing scholarly articles and presentations for peer-reviewed journals and conferences, corresponding with research partners.

M.A. in Media Studies, Concordia University, Montreal

2015

Thesis: Narrating the Archive: A Digital Oral History of Feminist Pedagogy

Supervisor: Professor Elizabeth Miller

Honors and Awards:

- GPA: 3.95
- Daniel Feist Memorial Scholarship (Value: $4,000)
- Research Bursaries (Value: $2500)

Research Assistantships:

- Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University Jan. 2013 – Aug. 2013
U.S. National Science Foundation funded study (Value: $225,000 USD): “Science, multiethnic democracy, and education in Kenya.” Principal investigator: Matthew Harsh (Professor, Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University). Conducted qualitative research, coded data, and analyzed themes from video interviews.
- Communication Studies, Concordia University Dec. 2012 – Feb. 2013
SSHRC funded study: “Re-imagining cinema: Film at Expo 67.” Principal investigator: Monika Kin Gagnon (Professor, Communication Studies, Concordia University). Conducted research and copyedited manuscript.
- Communication Studies, Concordia University Apr. 2012 – Aug. 2012
SSHRC funded study: “Database Narrative Archive.” Principal investigator: Monika Kin Gagnon (Professor, Communication Studies, Concordia University). Conducted archival research and developed interactive webpage.

Teaching Assistantships:

- Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University, Montreal Sep. 2012 – Dec. 2014
Assisted Professor Matthew Harsh during three semesters with the course, Social and Ethical Dimensions of Information and Communication Technologies. Evaluated research papers and group work related to the social and environmental problems caused by the unexpected effects of technology.
- Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University, Montreal Sep. 2012 – Dec. 2012
Assisted Professor Jessica Mudry with the course, Impact of Technology on Society. Evaluated research papers and assignments on the social history of technology in society.

Other University Appointments:

- Coordinator, Learning Centre, Communication Studies, Concordia University Sep. 2011 – Jun. 2013
Supervised the Media Gallery and Computer Lab. Assisted faculty and students with post-production work.
- Graduate Representative, Communication Studies, Concordia University Sep. 2011 – Sep. 2013
Represented Masters students in the Media Studies program at faculty meetings and presented graduate student initiatives and concerns. Assisted with communications, fundraising, and conference and event planning for faculty and graduate students.

B.A. Honors in Women’s Studies, Concordia University, Montreal

2011

Honors thesis: Feminist Gestures: A Research-Creation on the Politics of Encounter

Supervisors: Professor Genevieve Rail and Professor Tagny Duff.

Honors and Awards:

- Provost Scholarship
- Dean’s List
- Graduated with Distinction

University Teaching Experience

Course Lecturer, Continuing Studies, McGill University Sep. 2014 – Dec. 2016

Taught eight sections of the course, Communication in Engineering. Introduced fundamental research and communication skills needed by professional engineers: analytical and critical skills, multi-media strategies, and teamwork experience. Developed lesson plans and active learning activities. Provided audio-feedback on student assignments.

Interim Course Coordinator, Continuing Studies, McGill University Jun. 2015 – May 2016

Consulted on curriculum decisions for the course Communication in Engineering; supervised ten course lecturers; planned and led faculty meetings; organized professional development workshops for faculty; provided training and support for two new course lecturers; assessed course equivalencies; assessed graduate attributes for Engineering accreditation review; chaired the Writing Recognition Project; liaised with the Engineering Career Centre and the Science and Engineering Librarians for course-related workshops; worked closely with the Director of the Writing Centre on administrative matters.

Workshop Developer, McGill Writing Centre, McGill University Jun. 2014 – Dec. 2014

Developed and delivered workshops on academic writing skills for graduate and undergraduate students in the Department of Microbiology and Immunology.

Instructor, Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University Jan. 2013 – Dec. 2013

Taught four tutorial sections over two semesters of the course, Composition and Argumentation for Engineers. Developed and directed weekly tutorials introducing skills in composition, argumentation and persuasive professional writing, especially for students whose first language is not English. Led discussions, demonstrations, and review sessions to illustrate course concepts, and evaluated oral presentations and course work.

Instructor, Centre for Engineering and Society, Concordia University Jan. 2013 – Dec. 2013

Taught two tutorial sections over two semesters of the course, Technical Writing and Communication. Developed and directed weekly tutorials introducing essential types of professional engineering communication: technical reports, abstracts, proposals, and scientific papers. Led discussions, demonstrations, and review sessions to illustrate course concepts, and evaluated oral presentations and course work.

Writing Test Examiner, Engineering and Computer Science, Concordia University Jan. 2013 – Dec. 2013

Graded four iterations of the Engineering Writing Test, the writing skills requirement test for undergraduate and graduate students in the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science.

University Service

Contributor, Teaching and Learning Services, McGill University Feb. 2017

Authored "Why I use peer-assessment," for the Online Companion to the Course Design Workshop.

Chair, Writing Recognition Project, McGill Writing Centre, McGill University Jun. 2015 – Apr. 2016

Chaired the three iterations of the Writing Recognition Project for Communication in Engineering. Organized committee meetings and supervised the adjudication process.

Adjudicator, Writing Recognition Project, McGill Writing Centre, McGill University Sep. 2014 – Apr. 2016

Evaluated the strongest research paper across sections of the course Communication in Engineering based on excellence of idea, caliber of research, rigor of argument, and overall quality of writing. Recruited committee member from the Faculty of Engineering for multidisciplinary committee.

Clinical Nursing Experience

Registered Nurse, Primary Resources, Montreal Sep. 2006 – Dec. 2014

Provided community health services for CSSS de la Montagne and CSSS Cavendish (Centers for Health and Social Services). Provided primary care, case management, health education, and client advocacy. Liaised between clients, families, and allied health professionals. Provided training and supervision for new Nurses and support staff.

Registered Nurse, Montreal General Hospital, Montreal Apr. 2004 – Sep. 2006

Specialized in Cardiovascular and Thoracic Surgery. Provided pre- and post-operative acute care, medical delegated procedures, case management, health education, and client advocacy. Liaised between patients, families, and allied health professionals. Provided training and supervision to student Nurses and Nurses Pending License.

Teacher Education Training

Teaching and Learning Services, McGill University, Montreal

- Workshop: "Teaching What's Important: Educating Students for Today and Tomorrow" Dec 2015
- Workshop: "Course Design" May 2015
- Workshop: "Strategies to Support Active and Collaborative Learning" Nov 2014

Thesis, Publications and Presentations

Mitchell, C., Lamb, P., & Raissadat, H. (Invited). Exploring the impact of youth-produced images on family, community and policy. International Journal of Qualitative Methods.

Lamb, P. (2018). Affective possibilities for addressing sexual violence through art: Reflections across two sites. In C. Mitchell, & R. Moletsane (Eds.), Disrupting shameful legacies: Girls and young women speak back through the arts to address sexual violence. Rotterdam: Sense.

Mitchell, C., Lamb, P., & Raissadat, H. (2018, April 15). Exploring youth-produced images in community and policy dialogue. Paper presented at The American Education Research Association Conference, New York City, NY.

Lamb, P. (2017). Conference report: Framing/reframing: Visual sociology, Goffman & the everyday 35th International Visual Sociology Conference. Educational Research for Social Change, 6(2), 136-141.

Hart, L., Lamb, P., & Cader, J. (2017). Networked technologies as sites and means of nonviolence: Interdisciplinary perspectives. Girlhood Studies, 10(2), 62-79.

Lamb, P., & Mitchell, C. (2017, June 16-22). Pictures changing pictures: Visual researchers reflecting on the role of images in community and policy dialogue. Paper presented at The International Visual Studies Association Conference, Concordia University, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2017, June 16-22). Participatory visual methods to address HIV/AIDS. Paper presented at the International Visual Studies Association Conference, Concordia University, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2017, May 29-June 1). Queering girlhood studies through dance and digital citizenship. Paper presented at The Canadian Sociological Association Conference, Ryerson University, Toronto, ON.

Lamb, P. (2017, May 27-31). What difference does this make? Participatory arts-based research and the politics of engagement. Paper presented at The Canadian Society for the Study of Education conference, Ryerson University, Toronto, ON.

Lamb, P. (2016, October 15). Plenary or protest: Staging practices of micro-activism and intervention art. Paper presented at The Artful Inquiry Symposium, McGill University, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2015). Narrating the archive: A digital oral history of feminist pedagogy, (Unpublished master's thesis). Concordia University, Montreal, Canada.

Lamb, P. (2013, Spring). On creating a political soundscape: From socio-political to audio-visual transmutation [video file]. Transmutations: Performer le printemps Québécois 1(1). Retrieved from: <http://transmutations.org/site/on-creating-a-political-soundscape-from-socio-political-to-audio-visual-transmutation/>

Lamb, P. (2012, November 10-23). Tunnel thunder [video installation]. Studio XX, HTMLles 10: Festival of Media Arts and Digital Culture, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2012, November 16). Tunnel thunder: Exploring an acoustic territory of social unrest. Paper presented at Whose Business is Risk Conference, McGill University, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2012, November 8). Art, affect and social movements. Paper presented at University on the Streets, Concordia University, Montreal, QC.

Lamb, P. (2012, May 13). Put this on the map: The performative documentary as engaged pedagogy. Paper presented at Come Together: Digital Collaboration Conference, Queen's University, Kingston, ON.

References

Available upon request.